

Job Title: Project Manager / Senior Project Manager (f/m)

Career Area: Professional Services

Location: Paris, Copenhagen

Candidate Type: Experienced

Date Posted: Mar 26, 2008

We're looking for experienced project managers with mature customer relationship, conflict management, and general management skills.

Responsibilities

In this position you will take ownership of all project processes required to deliver superior technical and business results and customer satisfaction. Projects may involve new and undocumented service offerings. You will also:

- Collaborate with sales team to ensure that project opportunities are managed effectively
- Take direct ownership of booked projects, managing all resources, tasks, and activities required to successfully deliver committed scope of work
- Directly manage and take responsibility for the quality and completeness of all project deliverables, technologies, and relationships
- Focus on developing long-term client relationships by delivering superior quality results on time, within scope, and on budget
- Keeping professional knowledge current with project management techniques and technical knowledge

Qualifications

You must have experience in Project Management of large professional services projects and experience of pan-European engagement. Experience in project managing professional services IT/application based engagements in the enterprise segment is a requirement. Additional qualifications include:

- Ability to independently manage complex projects of medium to large size
- Ability to successfully manage internal project team members as well as third parties
- Capability of working with mid - to senior levels of management of client companies
- Ability to contribute to implementation and continuous improvement of business processes
- English: fluent

Interested?

Please send your application, desired salary and earliest possible starting date to:

Silex Media GmbH

Human Resources

Rosemarie Mohr

<mailto:rmohr@silexmedia.com>

Tel: +49 (89) 4512549 0